

Monday 22nd February

This is the front cover of our new book.

Here is the first page of the story. You can read it here, or listen to a version of it.

Now find the information you need to answer these questions.

What is the name of the village where the story takes place?

Where is the village?

Why do you think Kamanya lying in a hammock?

What do you think a shaman is?

What does the front cover show and who do you think the two people on the front cover of the book are?

Predict what you think the book will be about.

Do you already know anything about rainforests? What would you like to know about rainforests?